The Journey

Ladies' craft night

Friday, February 3 at 5:30pm

Bring your own craft supplies and join us for the fun in the Ministries Center! Bring a snack to share with everyone and we will see you there! See article below for information on another ministry opportunity.

Heart Health Awareness Sunday February 5th

This Sunday you are welcomed to wear red and acknowledge those who struggle with heart illnesses.

Open Gym and Fitness Center Orientation Sunday, February 5th Sunday, February 19th

Open Gym Time 2:00—4:00 pm
Fitness Center Orientation 2:30pm
(no need to register, just show up)

Men's Prayer Breakfast Every Thursday at 8:00 am

(Meet in the Conference Room.)

Men please join us for fellowship and prayer, breakfast at Miami Restaurant afterward.

Share those Goodies!

On Feb 2-4 we will be hosting a CBF Dawnings Retreat for area churches. We need snacks for about 12 people that Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Let Jeannie Roberts know if you can bring something.

Save The Date
Women's Banquet
Saturday, March 25th
Theme is "Stay Tuned!"

Congratulations to Kiah Trexler on the birth of her baby girl, Anniston Ganeva Hensley, on January 18, 2017. She weighed 7 lb., 4 oz. The proud grandparents are Bill and Gloria Trexler, and great-grandmother Virginia Trexler.

Dear Hominy Baptist Church friends,
Thank you so much very much for the Christmas shoeboxes. It is so much fun to see the smiles on our students' faces when we hand them a Christmas box. Please know that your love for our students is felt and appreciated.
Sincerely, Pegg Izzell-Social Worker, Sandhill-Venable

The next Church Conference will be on January 25th at 6:15 pm. If you plan to come to dinner before the conference, call the church office to make your reservation.

Celebrate Recovery

Phil Martin is once again facilitating the group Celebrate Recovery. The first session will be on Friday, February 3rd, at 7:00 pm in the Youth Room, and each Friday thereafter. For more info, please call Phil at (828)734-0644.

Amy Rice will begin a Tuesday night Bible Study for women called, The Frazzled Female, on February 7th at 6:30 pm at her home, 284 Asbury Rd., Candler. It is a 6 week course. With Jesus' teaching as our guide we will learn to deal with essential issues like managing our time, getting along with difficult people, taking time for ourselves, and even organizing our lives. Come and join together to dig into why we are "frazzled" and how we can handle it better.

Prayer Shawl Ministry

Do we have any of you who knit or crochet who would be interested in being a part of a prayer shawl ministry here at Hominy? We would gather during Ladies Craft Night each month and make prayer shawls for our sick and homebound. This would take several months to complete and you could even work on your project at home. Call Melissa at the church if you are interested?

I was just thinking... When this edition of the Journey is posted, I will be in Haiti, working among several villages and teaching in a seminary. Many years I've served in Honduras, the second poorest nation in the western hemisphere. Haiti is the poorest. There are 10,600,000 Haitians and the average annual...ANNUAL income is $820. The unemployment rate stands at 64%. Before you convince yourself that most of them can live comfortably on $840 annually, be aware that they have the shortest lifespan, the greatest occurrence of diseases largely unknown in the developed world and yes....they are still living under those blue tarps we sent over by the millions in 2010 just after that awful earthquake.

You are approximately 1,300 miles from Haiti which means, you are nearer Haiti than you are Denver, Colorado. Let that soak in for a moment. You are nearer the nation and people of Haiti than you are approximately 45% of the United States of America.

Unfortunately, Haiti does not possess many natural resources which the rest of the world wants. Their poverty has even caused the poorest of the poor to plunder the once natural beauty of the mountain forests so that barren land is in abundance.

That's a sad scenario with a bleak future, isn't it? So, why bother? Why tell the Jesus story to people who have such decrepit prospects? Two answers come to mind: first, did you know that wherever the saving Gospel of Jesus Christ goes, the quality of life improves. Life spans extend, emotional health evolves and general well-being is enhanced. Why? The answer is multi-faceted but at the barest minimum, when people learn about Jesus and receive Him and come to know Him personally, they no longer look out only for themselves and their kin. Their world enlarges. They become part of the solution others are searching for. Secondly, we bother to go to a place like Haiti because they are beloved of God. Sometimes I have to be reminded that Jesus in flesh was not white, but dark skinned. Jesus didn't speak English, He spoke Aramaic, Hebrew and probably some Greek. Jesus was not an American citizen, but was part of a nation that, at the time of His tenure on earth, was under the rule of a foreign power (Rome).

I have a friend who once was pastor of a Haitian congregation in Miami. It is so very interesting listening to him tell the story of the wonderful people he served. He speaks of their singing, vibrant and filled with fire. He tells stories of their commitment to one another, even sacrificing meals so that less-fortunate people might have something. He speaks of their faith, a faith that sustains them now as it did when they still resided on the island of Haiti. My friend now pastors a congregation in South Carolina and confesses that he misses mightily the Spirit that dwelled among that Haitian congregation. I suspect he will return one day.

You've heard me quote Corrie Ten Boom, "For America to return to Christ, we will have to be persecuted." Remember, she is a survivor of the Holocaust. Maybe she's right. Maybe in the opulence our nation takes for granted, perhaps in the freedoms we enjoy but seldom consider, we have grown thick-skinned, even to God. So, why am I going to Haiti? I am going because I believe I have something for them which they need. Just as importantly, and more frankly, more to the point, I am going because I know they have something for me. I need spiritual refreshment. I need personal revival. I need to be surrounded by people who can take NOTHING for granted. I think I'll find that in Haiti. Please pray.

Joe

STEERING COLUMN

Did you know we have over 50,000 square feet of building space? That includes over 26 doorways, 25 bathrooms, 24 heat/air units, 22 classrooms, 10 offices, 3 kitchens and 1 Greasetrap. Oh, and 670 light bulbs!

(That last bit of trivia comes as a result of a recent energy savings study we did with Duke/Progress Energy, more on that another day).

Our custodian Brandon Long, and the Childcare and DayStay staff, do a wonderful job keeping all this space clean. We also have a small group of dedicated men who come in every Tuesday morning to check those light bulbs, air filters, leaky faucets and fixtures. Other folks come in often to take care of exterior upkeep and repairs. But they could use some help!

If you are available on Tuesdays, then by all means come and be a part of that team, they have great time of fellowship while they work. If that day is bad for you, then check with me and I can give you some items from the "to do" list that could be done at your own convenience. There are also several larger projects that could be done on a Saturday morning or afternoon. Let me know of your interests and we can get a group together.

This is God's house, but we've been given stewardship of it. God has also given us the necessary skills and gifts to fulfill that responsibility. If you are looking for a way you can use your gifts, there's at least 2 light bulbs waiting for you!

Take care
Paul

When we pick up a good book many exciting things can happen. We can get lost in the story. We can enter a new world. We can picture ourselves as one of the characters. We can get invested in the outcome. The Hobbit, The Lord of the Rings, Harry Potter, A Tale of Two Cities, The Chronicles of Narnia, Star Wars, and many other stories can excite us and draw us into their narrative. Many of these stories are lengthy and take time to read, yet people do it every day.

When we approach the Bible, oftentimes we do not see it as a story. Oftentimes we see it as a book of encouragement, a book to give us direction, and a book to share with us some of life's lessons. The Bible can be all these things, but also so much more. It is a story, a great big story, the best story ever told. It has many different characters, story changes, locations, time periods; but it is one story. A story riddled throughout time, one that has you and I as a character in it.

This Bible reading plan approaches the story of God as that, a story. It is divided up into lengthier "chapters" if we can call them that, and still holds the segmentation of the books of the Bible. There are worship days that approach the Psalms like songs for us to sing. Hopefully, this 34-week Bible ready plan can help us become part of the story that we have been invited into.

FAMILY MATTERS

I have found that many parents, including myself, work hard at trying to be perfect. We want to have perfect children, a perfect home, a perfect job, and perfect relationships. We want the world to look at us and see that we've got everything under control and that we know what we're doing. We want to be successful and to have a good image for our peers, coworkers, relatives, and friends. That's a hard image to maintain for any length of time though. We know that we can't be "perfect" but we will only settle for a close proximity. Everything is fine in our lives until one of our children gets in trouble outside of our home, a relationship turns sour, our career goals are squashed by a pink slip, or our home becomes one of chaos. This has happened to many people who I know, including myself. We worry about what people will think about us, how we will move forward, and what a crisis will do to our standing in the community. We worry about things we can't control and try hard to hide the pain, fear, and imperfections. The problem is that when we try to hide it all, we become cynical, distant, and untrusting. I know from firsthand experience. We push away people who are trying to help us because we don't want them close enough to see the truth. The problem with hiding behind a false vision of perfection is that we lose sight of the real issue and the help that we can receive. We carry on like nothing is wrong and in the meantime we wallow in self-pity and pain unnecessarily. If you're struggling, please reach out for help, turn to someone, and talk about what's going on in your life. If you're going through a crisis and ask for help, it doesn't make you any less of a person. IN fact, it makes you a stronger and better person to surrender to the fact that we are all broken, we are all sinners, and we are all in need of God's grace. Turn to God first and ask Him where you need to seek help. He will lead you to where you need to go...probably to someone who has also faced similar issues and just wants to help you!! God's always ready to catch us when we fall, and He always puts people in the right place to help pick us back up again! – Melissa
